CHALLENGE ADD-ON

Debloat Meal Plan
21 Days

A 21-day meal plan, grocery list and teas to de-bloat your belly alongside your workouts.

WALL PILATES · 21-DAY CHALLENGE

Why your belly bloats

That puffy belly at the end of the day, the jeans that button in the morning and squeeze at night — it isn't always fat. Most of the time it's bloating: retained fluid and gas. It comes from too much salt and ultra-processed food, too little water, too little fiber, constipation, eating fast and, for many women, the hormonal shifts of your cycle and menopause.

The good news: bloating responds fast. With the right meal plan, most women feel the difference in their clothes in the very first week. Pilates does half the work; this meal plan does the rest.

The 7 rules of de-bloating

1. Water throughout the day. A good rule of thumb is half your body weight (in lbs) in ounces. It sounds contradictory, but people who drink too little water retain more.
2. Less hidden salt. Deli meats, seasoning packets, bouillon cubes, chips and frozen meals are the worst offenders.
3. Fiber every day. Greens, vegetables, fruit with the peel, oats and beans keep your gut moving.
4. Protein at every meal. It keeps hunger in check and helps maintain the muscles you're strengthening.
5. Potassium on your plate. Bananas, avocados, beans, tomatoes and dark leafy greens help your body flush out excess sodium.
6. Eat slowly. Eating fast means swallowing air, and air turns into gas.
7. Eat dinner earlier and lighter. 2 to 3 hours before bed.

What to avoid for 21 days

Avoid	Swap for
Soda and sparkling water	Water, lemon water or unsweetened iced tea
Ham, hot dogs, deli turkey	Shredded chicken, eggs or cottage cheese
Bouillon cubes and seasoning packets	Garlic, onion, herbs, lemon and paprika
Chips and cookies	Stovetop popcorn, fruit or nuts
Gum and candy	A clove, a cinnamon stick or a piece of fruit
White bread every day	Whole-wheat bread, a tortilla with egg or oatmeal

Do beans and cabbage make you bloated?

Soak dried beans for 12 hours and drain the water before cooking (or rinse canned beans well). Start with small portions: your gut adjusts within a few days.

De-bloating teas

Pick one a day and drink 1 to 2 cups, unsweetened, ideally between meals.

Tea	What for	Note
Ginger and lemon	Digestion and a lighter-feeling stomach	Avoid if you have gastritis or take blood thinners
Peppermint	Gas and bloating	Can worsen acid reflux in some people
Fennel	Gas and cramping	Safe for most people
Chamomile	Digestion and sleep (great at night)	Avoid if you're allergic to ragweed or daisies
Hibiscus	Mild diuretic effect	Avoid if you have low blood pressure, are pregnant or breastfeeding

How to build your plate

- Half the plate: greens and vegetables (raw and cooked).
- A quarter: protein (chicken, fish, eggs, lean beef, tofu).
- A quarter: real-food carbs (rice, beans, potatoes, sweet potatoes, corn).
- Seasoning: olive oil, lemon, garlic and herbs instead of extra salt.

Week 1 — De-bloat

Focus: cut hidden salt and get your gut moving. Meals repeat on purpose to make grocery shopping easier.
