WALL PILATES · 21-DAY CHALLENGE

No diet: meals made for your routine

There's no single meal plan that works for every woman. So instead of a rigid list, this guide teaches you to build your own plan with the plate method and hand-sized portions: simple, no food scale and no calorie counting.

Step 1 — Find your portion size

Use your own hands as a measure. They're proportional to your body and always with you.

Group	Measure	Examples
Protein	1 palm (without fingers)	Chicken, lean beef, fish, eggs (2), tofu
Carbs	1 cupped hand	Rice, potatoes, sweet potatoes, pasta, oats, bread (1 slice)
Legumes	1 cupped hand	Black beans, lentils, chickpeas, peas
Vegetables	2 open hands (as much as you like)	Leafy greens, tomato, zucchini, broccoli, carrots
Healthy fats	1 thumb	Olive oil, nuts, avocado, peanut butter
Fruit	1 fist	Apple, banana, berries, strawberries, orange

Step 2 — Choose your goal

Goal	Lunch and dinner	Snacks
Lose weight	1 palm of protein + ½ cupped hand of carbs + 1 cupped hand of beans + veggies as you like	1 small protein + 1 fruit
Maintain and tone	1 palm of protein + 1 cupped hand of carbs + 1 cupped hand of beans + veggies	1 protein + 1 fruit + 1 thumb of healthy fat
Firm up with lots of training	1½ palms of protein + 1 to 1½ cupped hands of carbs + veggies	1 protein + 1 fruit + 1 carb

The ideal plate

Half the plate vegetables, a quarter protein and a quarter carbs or beans. Start your meal with the greens: you feel full sooner and eat less without trying.

Step 3 — Build your day

Meal	How to build it	Example
Breakfast	1 protein + 1 carb + 1 fruit	2 scrambled eggs + 1 slice of whole-wheat toast + berries
Morning snack	1 fruit or 1 small protein	Plain Greek yogurt or 1 apple
Lunch	Ideal plate	Grilled chicken, rice, black beans, salad and veggies
Afternoon snack	1 protein + 1 fruit	Greek yogurt with strawberries and oats
Dinner	Ideal plate, with fewer carbs	Veggie omelet and salad
Evening snack (if hungry)	1 light protein	Herbal tea + 1 cheese stick

7-day meal plan (weight-loss example)

7 golden rules

1. Eat every 3 to 4 hours, without skipping meals.
2. Have protein at every meal.
3. Drink water: a glass when you wake up and one before each meal.
4. Eat slowly, without screens, chewing well.
5. Plan ahead: keep protein and veggies prepped for 2 or 3 days.
6. Don't cut out whole food groups; adjust your portions.
7. One off-plan meal doesn't ruin anything. Get back on track at the next one.
